EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada has a population of 72,051 and boasts an extraordinary quality of life. A family-friendly community with work/life balance that cannot be beat and 10-minute commutes, Sault Ste. Marie offers affordable housing, centres of learning and culture, urban amenities, and our renowned four-season recreation assets that are natural complements to the competitive business environment.

Sault Ste. Marie has a cost advantage as it relates to utility and service costs. Sault Ste. Marie, through its wholly owned public utility, prides itself on providing reliable services at the lowest possible prices.

We have deep roots in manufacturing and our growing smart energy sector builds upon the nearly 1200 megawatts (MW) of clean renewable energy produced in the region (solar, wind, and hydro-electric generation). A community-wide smart grid and battery storage project will lower electricity costs even further on top of increased power reliability and redundancies.

We are a multi-modal transportation hub, with access to the TransCanada Highway, Canadian National Rail and Canadian Pacific, deep port shipping, and a regional airport with multiple daily flights to Toronto, Ontario. Sault Ste. Marie is located at the centre point of the TransCanada highway, with uncongested travel north of the city, and to the south, a short bridge crossing away, is Sault Ste. Marie Michigan and Interstate-75.

Sault Ste. Marie can meet the information and technology needs of any company, as the region is serviced by three independent broadband carriers. All major cellular companies, including Bell Canada, Rogers, TELUS and Virgin Mobile, service the area.

Sault Ste. Marie offers numerous cost benefits over business operations in larger cities. We offer quality talent and expertise at an affordable rate, lower business operating costs and affordable land and real estate. We have access to financial incentives and programs for new and existing clients.

Sault Ste. Marie is the place to enjoy a “big” lifestyle with a small footprint. The nature that surrounds us inspires our commitment to living well and growing well. From its rich history and quality-of-life benefits to its growing economy and competitive advantages for businesses, Sault Ste. Marie is a great place to live, learn, work and play.

With our strategic location, access to markets, lower cost structure, affordable living and high quality of life, Sault Ste. Marie is the ideal place for your business and your family. For international professionals, students, and newcomers, we are a welcoming community for settlement opportunities.

LOCATION

Sault Ste. Marie is strategically located at the heart of the Great Lakes, on the U.S. border with Michigan and near the centre point of the Trans-Canada Highway.

We are a multi-modal transportation hub with excellent air, highway, marine, rail, and telecommunication connections ensuring rapid and economical transportation of people, products, raw materials, and information, which enable convenient and direct multi-modal access to the international marketplace.

We are located at the centre of the Great Lakes Economy, a highly integrated trading zone that accounts for more than 50% of all U.S./Canadian bilateral border trade and over 200 million tons of cargo shipped annually. The region, made up of 10 U.S. states and two provinces, is the third biggest economy in the world.

TRANSPORTATION & LOGISTICS

HIGHWAYS

Sault Ste. Marie has direct access to Canadian markets via Highway 17 (part of the Trans-Canada Highway), which links to the east coast, west coast and to Southern Ontario via Highway 400.

Just across the Sault Ste. Marie International Bridge, where wait times are a fraction of what they are at southern Ontario border crossings, lies Michigan, along with direct access to the United States customers via Interstate-75.

RAIL

Sault Ste. Marie has rail access to the North American marketplace via the Agawa Canyon, Canadian Pacific, and Huron Central railways. These routes provide coast-to-coast service with access to manufacturing facilities in Canada and the United States.

With a rail bridge crossing the St. Mary's River into Michigan, Sault Ste. Marie also offers access to more than 10,000 U.S. route miles to links such as Detroit, Minneapolis, Chicago, Milwaukee, and Duluth.

AIRPORTS

The Sault Ste. Marie Airport is located within city limits, and features unrestricted landing (24 hours) with category five certification. It is the only airport in northeastern Ontario that contains a NAV Canada air traffic control tower.

Sault Ste. Marie is serviced by multiple airlines, including: Air Canada, Porter Airlines, Bearskin Airlines, Sunwing Vacations, and Delta Airlines (Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan)

PORTS AND MARINE

The Algoma Docks seaway-depth port is strategically located on the St. Mary's River at the tip of Lake Superior, an integral part of the Great Lakes St. Lawrence Seaway System. The St. Lawrence Seaway system serves a region that is home to more than 95 million people and accounts for about 45 percent of U.S. manufacturing.

The location is a pivotal point of connection between Lake Superior, Lake Huron, and Lake Michigan. The port connects to all major multi-modal transportation networks in the region such as class 1 railways (Canadian National and Canadian Pacific) and has direct access to Trans-Canada Highway 17 & the U.S. Interstate 75.

The seaway is cost-competitive for shipping products both to and from the international marketplace. It can accommodate 1,000-foot freighters used on the Great Lakes, as well as ocean going vessels.

SOO LOCKS

For over 160 years, the Soo Locks in Sault Ste. Marie, MI have provided safe passage and a vital shipping connection within the Great Lakes. Nearly 10,000 vessels pass through the locks annually, hauling 94 million tons of cargo, making it the busiest lock system in the world.

The Sault Ste. Marie area is a true multi-modal hub, delivering all forms of efficient transportation to the companies and citizens that call this area home.
